

Unit Seven

Rhymes

Lesson 7

Bookworm

Out in my back garden,
You have to take my word,
I saw a big worm reading,
I know it sounds absurd.

“Where in the world,” I asked the worm,
“Did you learn how to read?”
“It took hard work,” he said to me.
“But now I read with speed!”

Then he said to me quite frankly,
He was very, very firm,
“It took me lots of work,
To become a good bookworm!”

Unit Seven: Lesson 7

Word-Picture card

/er/: or worm

Unit Seven: Lesson 7

Practice sentences

The work at school today was the hardest work in the world.

I had the worst day because I had to work out what the words were.

The hard work was worth it because my new bedroom looks fantastic.

